Life skills (Yoga, physical fitness, health and hygiene)

Introduction:

In alignment with the holistic development of students, our college has established a dedicated Yoga Cell to foster physical and mental well-being among the student community. The Yoga Cell orchestrates a range of activities, including yoga training programs, seminars, and health-consciousness initiatives. These efforts are conducted in collaboration with the NSS (National Service Scheme) and the Cultural Committee.

Yoga Training Programs:

Regular yoga training programs are a cornerstone of the initiatives undertaken by the Yoga Cell. These programs, conducted on the campus, aim to impart the principles and practices of yoga to enhance both physical fitness and mental resilience among students. Some of our faculty members guide the participants through various asanas, pranayamas, and meditation techniques, emphasizing the holistic benefits of incorporating yoga into their daily lives.

Seminars and Health-Consciousness Programs:

In conjunction with the NSS and the Cultural Committee, the Yoga Cell organizes seminars and health-consciousness programs. These events serve as platforms to raise awareness about the importance of leading a healthy lifestyle. Experts and professionals are often invited to share their knowledge on topics ranging from nutrition to mental well-being. These initiatives play a crucial role in instilling a sense of responsibility for one's health among the student body.

International Day of Yoga Celebrations:

An annual highlight is the celebration of the International Day of Yoga on the 21st of June. This event is meticulously organized by the Cultural Committee and inaugurated by the Officer-in-Charge. The day begins with speeches elucidating the significance of yoga and the importance of maintaining a healthy lifestyle. The entire college community, including teaching and non-teaching staff, actively participates in the event. In a collective demonstration of mindfulness, everyone present engages in a brief meditation session.

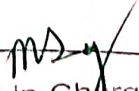

Following the meditation, experienced yoga instructors showcase various yoga postures and pranayamas, elucidating their benefits. Students enthusiastically participate, making the event not only informative but also interactive. The celebration serves as a powerful reminder of the importance of incorporating yoga into daily routines for physical and mental well-being.

Online Celebration Amidst the Pandemic:

In response to the challenges posed by the COVID-19 pandemic, the International Day of Yoga was celebrated through online platforms. Virtual sessions, including online yoga classes and informative webinars, were organized to ensure that the benefits and practices of yoga were accessible to all students, even in the midst of social distancing measures.

Conclusion:

The efforts undertaken by the Yoga Cell, in collaboration with other committees and departments, reflect the college's commitment to nurturing not only the academic but also the holistic well-being of its students. Through yoga, physical fitness, health, and hygiene initiatives, students are equipped with valuable life skills that contribute to their overall personal and professional development. The emphasis on mental and physical wellness underscores the institution's dedication to producing well-rounded individuals capable of meeting the challenges of the modern world.
