World Environment Day was celebrated with fervor at Government General Degree College, Ranibandh, emphasizing the importance of environmental stewardship and sustainable practices. The event witnessed active participation from the college community, including faculty, staff, and students, with notable highlights and outcomes. The event was presided over by Mr. Madhusudan Garain, the Honorable Officer-in-Charge of the college. He delivered an inspiring talk, emphasizing the significance of World Environment Day and the role of individuals in environmental conservation. His address set the tone for the event, rallying everyone towards a common goal of protecting our planet. A significant highlight of the celebration was the oath ceremony for the environment, where all participants pledged their commitment to environmental conservation and sustainable living. Led by Mr. Garain, the oath reaffirmed the college's dedication to protecting the environment for present and future generations. The National Service Scheme (NSS) played a pivotal role in the event, demonstrating their commitment to community service and environmental activism. NSS volunteers actively engaged in various activities, including tree plantation drives, cleanliness campaigns, and awareness sessions on environmental issues. As part of the celebration, a tree plantation drive was organized both within and outside the college campus. The World Environment Day celebration at Government General Degree College, Ranibandh, was a resounding success, marked by meaningful engagements and commitments towards environmental conservation. The president's address, coupled with active participation from NSS and the college community, underscored the importance of collective action in addressing environmental challenges.
